The Honorable William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence
Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Bill:

It is my understanding that the architectural firm of Vosbeck, Vosbeck, Kendrick & Redinger, Incorporated of Alexandria and the firm of Dewberry & Davis, an engineering firm of Falls Church, Virginia, in a consortium with Everett I. Brown Company are one of the three final firms under consideration for award of the contract for the construction of the new Central Intelligence Agency facility in Langley, Virginia. Two of the above three mentioned firms are local Northern Virginia firms and the association of the three firms have performed both local projects and other projects for the Central Intelligence Agency in the past.

Since these firms are located in an area that I have the privilege to represent, I wanted to write and call to your attention their exemplary record in design and construction. Their professional capabilities and their reputations in their respective areas of expertise are known to be exceptional. For that reason it is my hope that your agency will give them the highest consideration for award of this project, consistent with appropriate procedures in the selection process.

Thank you very much for your attention. If I can provide you any further information concerning this matter, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours very truly,

Stan Parris
Member of Congress
